A screenshot of a security warning message. At the top left is a red shield icon with a white 'X'. The main text reads: "There is a problem with this website's security certificate." Below this, it explains that the certificate was not issued by a trusted authority and was issued for a different address. It then states: "Security certificate problems may indicate an attempt to fool you or intercept any data you send to server." A bold recommendation follows: "We recommend that you close this webpage and do not continue to this website." Below the recommendation are three options: "Click here to close this webpage." (with a checked checkbox), "Continue to this website (not recommended)." (with a checked checkbox), and "More information" (with an unchecked checkbox). A white box with the text "เลือกตรงนี้" has an arrow pointing to the "Continue to this website" option.
